6th Sunday of Easter

Readings:

Acts 15:1-2, 22-29
Ps 67:2-3, 5-6, 8
Rv 21:10-14, 22-23
Jn 14:23-29

"Do not let your hearts be troubled or afraid." Can we hear Jesus saying these words to us? It's often easier for us to imagine the apostles hearing this consoling command and following it, than to think of it really applying to us. After all, Jesus was standing right there with them. Can he really expect US, two thousand years later, not to be troubled by the cares of life? But the fact is that the gift Jesus was giving to his disciples, he has also given to us: "The Advocate, the Holy Spirit, whom the Father will send in my name."

Jesus told them that peace would be theirs, and it can also be ours. Peace is, in fact, one of the fruits of the Holy Spirit, along with love, joy, patience, kindness, goodness, generosity, gentleness, faithfulness, modesty, self-control, and chastity. These fruits don't come from us. They aren't just for people with certain cheery personalities. These fruits come from God straight into our souls through the indwelling presence of the Holy Spirit. Through our baptism and confirmation, Jesus gives us the gift of his Spirit. And then his peace, and so many other gifts can truly become ours if we open our hearts to them.

This is a reality that we can contemplate whenever worry or anxiety strike. Whatever may be disturbing our inner peace—whether it be a family feud, some kind of physical suffering, or a difficult decision to make at work or school—we can take comfort in knowing that we can find peace even in the midst of the problem. "Peace I leave with you; my peace I give to you," Jesus says. But he continues, "Not as the world gives do I give it to you." In other words, God doesn't promise to take away the struggle in an instant. But he does promise to give us his peace even in the midst of life's trials and tribulations.

Dominicans are Coming!

Today, Sunday, May 1, our provincial Fr. James V Marchionda will be visiting for the day. Fr Louis Morrone, his Vicar, will also be here. So if you see strange white robed men here at St Isidore's, don't be alarmed. They are great guys, so I hope you have a chance to meet them.

ALSO on May 15, we will have our four novices and novice master stopping by for Mass and staying the night. We have limited space so if any of you have room to take in one or two of the novices overnight, that would be a big help. The next day they'll drive to see the Dominican Sisters in Great Bend, then on to the novitiate in Denver. They too are great guys and it's a wonderful way for you to get to know Dominicans, and for them to get to know what super parishioners we have here! ► If you can help, please let me know at frmike@stisidores.com.

Finally, one of our student brothers will visit May 19-20. He is a Kansan from KC and will be on his home visit. FYI, about eight years ago St. Isidore's inspired one of its alumni to join the province, Fr Cassian Sama, who is now parochial vicar at Purdue's Newman Center.

The month of May looks like the month for O.P.'s to start popping up all over. Hope you enjoy meeting them.

- Fr. Mike

St. Vincent Ferrer (1350-1419)

In 1398, at Avignon as a member of the entourage of Pope Benedict XIII, St. Vincent

Ferrer was suffering from a grave fever and near death. Years later in 1412 in a letter, he shared with a friend about that time when a "certain religious [Vincent himself], praying lovingly to God for his recovery so, that he might again preach the word of God when, at last, while he was at prayer...two saints [Dominic and Francis] appeared to him as in a dream, at the feet of Christ, making great supplication. At length, after they had prayed thus for a long while, Christ rose and, with one on either side, came down to this same religious lying on his bed. Then Christ, touching him caressingly with the finger of His most holy hand, gave him a most definite interior comprehension that, in imitation of these saints, he must go through the world preaching as the Apostles had done, and that He, Christ, would mercifully await this preaching for the conversion and correction of mankind. At once, at the touch of Christ's fingers, the aforesaid religious rose up entirely cured of his sickness."

From that point on, for the next 20 years Vincent trekked across Europe preaching what we know as parish missions seeing himself as the angel of the Apocalypse, announcing his theme, "Fear God and give him glory, for his time has come to sit in judgment" (Rev. 14:7).
