Readings:

Jer 20:7-9
Ps 63:2-6, 8-9
Rom 12:1-2
Mt 16:21-27

"You are thinking not as God does, but as human beings do." Peter had expressed horror at the prophetic words announcing that Jesus' suffering and death were imminent. Peter didn't want his friend and teacher to undergo this terrible ordeal. He wanted "no such thing" ever to happen to his Lord. But Jesus sharply rebuked Peter's response, comparing it to that of the tempter, Satan. Just as temptation becomes an obstacle to our doing what is right, so Peter was presenting an obstacle to Christ's mission. Suffering was part of it, like it or not. To deny this difficult element of Christ's work would be to deny the bigger plan of God. And so Jesus rightly told Peter that he wasn't thinking like God thinks.

Of course, since we are human, it's only natural that we should think as human beings do. We, like Peter, tend to recoil at the idea of facing unpleasant or painful circumstances. But clearly God sometimes allows such situations to take place for a greater good. Jesus understood this; even as he prophesied about his death, he also mentioned his resurrection.

Today's Gospel challenges us to think "as God does" by holding both of these elements together. Unlike Peter who only focused on the sad part of the story, we are called to recognize the Resurrection on the other side of the cross, and to be willing to do whatever is necessary to get there. In fact, Jesus tells us later in this Gospel to take up our cross and follow him. That is not the "human" way of thinking. It's the Godly way. Our natural response is to reject and scorn the trials and tribulations that we face, but Jesus wants us to embrace them patiently and "come after" him on the (sometimes rough) road to eternal life.

Listening Session for Young Adults

The next Synod of Bishops in Rome is on the topic of “Young People, the Faith, and Vocational Discernment.” In preparation for the Synod, Pope Francis has asked that each diocese enter into a consultation with young adults to determine their concerns, issues, and interests. I will not be making a presentation or responding to issues surfaced. Rather, I am directed solely to listen to you, the Catholic young adults of our community, to discern your views on these issues.

In light of that approach, I will be hosting a listening session for young adults this Tuesday, Sept. 5 at St. Isidore’s starting at 7:30 p.m., followed by Mass. Following the session, I will be forwarding a report to the Holy See. Issues we will address are related to: the main challenges and opportunities for young Catholic people in our Diocese; common concerns young adults struggle with; how our Catholic Student Centers contribute to young adult’s formation and vocation discernment; young adult’s interaction with clergy; interactions with friends and family members who have left the Church; and most importantly, identifying the key issues the Church should be looking at today from the perspective of young adults.

Emergency Collection for Hurricane Victims

In recent days, all of us have been following the historic flooding in southeast Texas. Hurricane Harvey has created an unprecedented and catastrophic weather event. We also pray for the brave first responders whose efforts are profound. All parishes of the Salina Diocese will participate in a National Collection for hurricane victims next weekend, September 9-10. The funds collected will be used both to support the humanitarian and recovery efforts of Catholic Charities USA and to provide pastoral and rebuilding support to impacted dioceses through the USCCB. Thank you for your generosity and support!
